

Literary Spring in Ruse from 4th to 9th of April, 2009

Between the 4th and 9th of April, the IECG was hosting a series of literary events in Ruse including workshops, readings, discussions and presentations that offered opportunities to authors from Bulgaria, Germany and Macedonia to meet and exchange.

The first reading was held by Bulgarian writer Teodora Dimova who read from her novel “Adriana”. On Sunday, poets Mara Genschel, Jan Röhnert, Nikola Madzirov and Fedja Filkova were being presented to the public. On Monday and Tuesday, workshops in creative writing were held by Mara Genschel, Nikola Madzirov, Leonie Bongartz and Jan Röhnert on poetry, script and essay writing.

On Wednesday, Bulgarian novelist Georgi Grozdev read from two of his novels. Switzerland’s Noëlle Revas concluded the series of events on Thursday with a reading from her yet unpublished novel “Efina”.

The Literary Spring was a tremendous success and was firmly established as a part of Ruse’s yearly calendar of events.
