

Rolling Road Show – Evroremont 2007

Sofia, 21st to 23rd of June, 2007

Ruse, 28th and 29th of June, 2007

The concept of the Rolling Road Show as a mobile “container theatre” which has been guesting since 2000 in places where there is no room for a real theatre, has been developed by Bert Neumann, stage designer at the Volksbühne Berlin. Theatre is thus being transported from the city center into the outskirts. In this way, people there who usually don’t get in contact with theatre, can set up a dialogue with the theatre group.

Contentwise, the Rolling Road Show’s programme deals with the current economical and cultural transformation of Bulgaria which leads many of its inhabitants neglect a critical reflection on their personal situation within a money- and consumption-oriented way of life.

